

LIVE BLOG FEED

Megamind Throws A Lot of Comic Muscle Behind A Script That...
 FrontRow | by Peter Simek

Jammin' on a Friday Afternoon with Jam Jar Sweets
 SideDish | by Sarah Feiss

TOP STORY

Find the Best Dance Floors in Dallas

AT&T PERFORMING ARTS CENTER
 NOV 16, 2010
 BRINKER INTERNATIONAL FORUM

AL PACINO

BUY TICKETS!

FrontBurner®

A DAILY CONVERSATION ABOUT DALLAS

Wise Men: House to GOP, Dems Keep Senate

Posted on November 2nd, 2010 11:43am by Glenn Hunter
 Filed under Local News, Politics

The GOP should pick up around 50 House seats today, but Democrats will hang on to the Senate. Joe Miller, Christine O'Donnell and Ken Buck should all go down in flames, and Senate Majority Leader Harry Reid (the "toughest, nastiest S.O.B." in Washington) is likely to survive. It all means the biggest donnybrook over taxes since the 1980s could be coming next year, when Republicans will face some risky decisions (like cutting defense spending) to prove they're serious about deficit reduction.

Those were a few of the predictions when mega-Realtors Pierce and Allie Beth Allman hosted three soothsayers from D.C.'s Ogilvy Government Relations for an "Election Eve" gab-fest last night at Dallas' Tower Residences at The Ritz-Carlton. The three wise men were, from left in photo, former Obama strategist Moses Mercado; McCain/Palin campaign vice chair Wayne Berman; and Chris Giblin, previously chief of staff for Congressman John Carter (R-TX). The Allmans laid out some good groceries, too.

FrontBurner® launched in March 2003, the first blog in Dallas run by a media organization. This is where the editors of D Magazine come to waste a tremendous amount of time.

Search Go

Subscribe via RSS (What is RSS?)

Events + This Week

- 11/5/10 Fri Alpha Chi Couture Fashion Show
Frontiers of Flight Museum
- 11/5/10 Fri Merle Haggard
Billy Bob's Texas
- 11/5/10 Fri Wipe Out Kids' Cancer Gala
The Adolphus
- 11/5/10 Fri Phoenix Coyotes at Dallas Stars

Find an Event Go

Events Today | Events Tomorrow | Events This Weekend

